SICOR INC.'S ANSWER AND DEFENSES TO THE FOURTH AMENDED MASTER CONSOLIDATED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Defendant Sicor Inc. ("Sicor"), f/k/a Gensia and Gensia Sicor, hereby responds to the Fourth Amended Master Consolidated Class Action Complaint (the "FAMCC") in corresponding numbered paragraphs as follows:

Preface

The FAMCC improperly and repetitively refers to Sicor and certain other defendants and third parties on a collective basis, failing to plead with requisite particularity allegations against Sicor or other defendants or third parties. Intentionally ambiguous pleading is improper and insufficient to apprise Sicor in any meaningful sense of the allegations asserted against it. Sicor has nevertheless attempted to respond to Plaintiffs' allegations to the extent possible under the circumstances. To the extent allegations refer to the knowledge, conduct or actions of other defendants or entities, Sicor is generally without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of those allegations and, on that basis, Sicor denies those allegations. In answering the FAMCC, Sicor responds only for itself, even when Plaintiffs' allegations refer to alleged conduct by Sicor and other persons or entities.

The FAMCC improperly mixes factual allegations with inflammatory rhetoric so as to make it virtually impossible to respond to it meaningfully. Many of the allegations of the FAMCC are vague or conclusory. The FAMCC also includes terms which are undefined and which are susceptible of different meanings.

In addition, the FAMCC contains purported quotations from a number of sources, many of which are unidentified. If any of the quotations originate in documents protected by the attorney-client privilege, the work-product doctrine or the joint-defense privilege, Sicor reserves the right to assert such privileges, hereby moves to strike such references and demands return of any such documents that Plaintiffs may have in their possession, custody or control. In answering allegations consisting of quotations, an admission that the material quoted was contained in a document or was uttered by the person or entity quoted shall not constitute an admission that the substantive content of the quote is or is not true or that the material is relevant or admissible in this action.

Sicor explicitly denies the existence of, or its participation in, any fraud, fraudulent scheme, conspiracy, or enterprise. Sicor further denies each and every allegation contained in the FAMCC, except as specifically herein admitted, and any factual averment admitted herein is admitted only as to the specific facts and not as to any conclusions, characterizations, implications, innuendoes or speculations which are contained in any averment or in the FAMCC as a whole. Moreover, Sicor specifically denies any allegations contained in headings, footnotes, the Table of Contents or unnumbered paragraphs in the FAMCC.

Sicor provides no response with respect to allegations regarding the following drugs, cisplatin, dexamethasone sodium phosphate, diltiazem hydrochloride injectable, enalaprilat injectable, epinephrine, glycopyrrolate injectable, magnesium sulfate injectable, neostigmine methylsulfate, phenylephrine, promethazine injectable, propofol injectable, sodium chloride, vecuronium bromide injectable, and vincristine sulfate, even though Plaintiffs identified these drugs in the text of the FAMCC, they never listed them in Appendix A which identifies the Sicor drugs at issue. Furthermore, Sicor provides no response with respect to these drugs because they are deemed to have been stricken by Judge Saris' April 13, 2006 order and therefore are not issue.

These comments and objections are incorporated, to the extent appropriate, into each numbered paragraph of this Answer.

I. INTRODUCTION

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Plaintiffs and the putative class fail to state with particularity the fraudulent concealment allegations against Sicor in the FAMCC.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

Plaintiffs and the putative class fail to allege with particularity their civil conspiracy claims against Sicor as required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b).

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

The civil conspiracy claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class against Sicor are barred, in whole or in part, by their failure to allege a concerted action as required by Aetna Cas. Sur. Co. v. P&B Autobody, 43 F.3d 1546, 1564 (1st Cir. 1994) and Grant v. John Hancock Mut. Life Ins. Co., 183 F. Supp. 2d 344, 359 (D. Mass. 2002).

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

The civil conspiracy claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class against Sicor are barred, in whole or in part, because they are duplicative and improper under Massachusetts law. See Grant, 183 F. Supp. 2d at 364.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

Sicor asserts all applicable defenses under the various state consumer protections laws, and the laws and constitutions of those states.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class under California's consumer protection laws are barred in whole or in part because the utility of Sicor's conduct with regard to the pricing and sale of its drugs outweighed any harm that may have been caused by that conduct.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class under California's consumer protection laws are barred in whole or in part because Sicor's statements regarding its drugs were not likely to deceive the intended audience.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

Any allegedly fraudulent statements or conduct of Sicor did not directly or proximately cause the alleged injuries of Plaintiffs and/or any members of the putative class as required under state consumer protection laws, including without limitation those of Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

Sicor's conduct was neither "deceptive," "misleading," "unlawful," "unfair," "fraudulent," "false," "unconscionable," "willful," nor "illegal" as required under certain state consumer protection laws, including without limitation those of Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, California and/or Washington.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Plaintiffs and the putative class did not rely on the allegedly fraudulent statements or unconscionable conduct of Sicor as required under certain state consumer protection laws, including without limitation those of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Illinois and Minnesota.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

Any allegedly fraudulent statement or conduct of Sicor was not consumer-oriented as required under certain consumer protection laws, including without limitation that of New York.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class are barred, in whole or in part, by the Noerr-Pennington doctrine to the extent that such claims are premised, in whole or in part, on alleged statements or conduct by Sicor in judicial, legislative or administrative proceedings of any kind or at any level of government.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class are barred, in whole or in part, to the extent that Plaintiffs and the putative class members have released, settled, entered into an accord and satisfaction or otherwise compromised their claims.

THIRTY-EIGHT DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class against Sicor for damages are barred, in whole or in part, because they would be unjustly enriched if allowed to recover any portion of the damages alleged in the FAMCC.

THIRTY-NINTH DEFENSE

Sicor is entitled to a set-off, should any damages be awarded against it, for the entire amount of all damages or settlement amounts recovered by Plaintiffs and/or the putative class, with respect to the same alleged injuries.

Any damages recovered by the Plaintiffs and/or the putative class from Sicor must be limited by the applicable statutory ceilings on recoverable damages.

FORTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Plaintiffs and the putative class fail to alleged facts or a cause of action against Sicor sufficient to support a claim for attorneys' fees, treble damages and/or legal fees.

FORTY-SECOND DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor have no basis in law or fact.

FORTY-THIRD DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor are not recoverable because the allegations of the FAMCC are legally insufficient to support a claim for punitive damages against Sicor.

FORTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because an award of punitive damages by a jury that (1) is not provided constitutionally adequate standards of sufficient clarity for determining the appropriate imposition of, and the appropriate size of, a punitive damages award, (2) is not adequately instructed on the limits of punitive damages imposed by the applicable principles of deterrence and punishment, (3) is not expressly prohibited from awarding punitive damages, or determining the amount of an award of punitive damages, in whole or in part on the bases of invidiously discriminatory characteristics, including without limitation the residence, wealth, and corporate status of Sicor, (4) is permitted to award punitive damages under a standard for determining liability for punitive damages that is vague and arbitrary and does not define with sufficient clarity the conduct or mental state that makes punitive damages permissible, (5) is not properly instructed regarding Plaintiff's and the putative class' burden of proof with respect to each and every element of a claim for punitive damages, and (6) is not subject to trial court and appellate judicial review for reasonableness and furtherance of legitimate purposes on the basis of constitutionally adequate and objective standards, would violate Sicor' Due Process and Equal Protection rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, and would be improper under the constitutions, common law and public policies of any applicable states' laws.

FORTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because laws regarding the standards for determining liability for and the amount of punitive damages fail to give Sicor prior notice of the conduct for which punitive damages may be imposed and the severity of the penalty that may be imposed and are void for vagueness in violation of Sicor' due process rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitutions and the constitutions of any applicable states' laws.

FORTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because an award of punitive damages that is subject to no predetermined limit, such as maximum multiple of compensatory damages or a maximum amount of punitive damages that may be imposed, would: (1) violate Sicor' due process rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States

Constitution; (2) violate Sicor' right not to be subjected to an excessive award; and (3) be improper under the constitutions, common law and public policies of any applicable states' laws.

FORTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because any award of punitive damages exceeding the limits authorized by the laws or other comparable laws would violate Sicor' due process and equal protection rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and would be improper under the constitutions, common law and applicable states' laws.

FORTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because an award of punitive damages in this case, combined with any prior, contemporaneous, of subsequent judgments against Sicor for punitive damages arising from the design, development, manufacture, fabrication, distribution, supply, marketing, sale, or use of Sicor' medicines would constitute impermissible multiple punishments for the same wrong, in violation of Sicor' due process and equal protection rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and would constitute double jeopardy in violation of the constitutions, common law and statutory law of any applicable states' laws.

FORTY-NINTH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because any award of punitive damages without the apportionment of the award separately and severally between or among the alleged joint tortfeasors, as determined by the alleged percentage of the wrong committed by each alleged tortfeasor, would violate Sicor' due process and equal protection rights guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and would be improper under the constitutions, common law and public policies of any applicable states' laws.

FIFTIETH DEFENSE

To the extent punitive damages are sought, the claims of Plaintiffs and the putative class for punitive damages against Sicor cannot be sustained because any award of punitive damages, which are penal in nature, without according Sicor the same protections that are accorded to all criminal defendants, including the protection against unreasonable searches and seizures, the privilege against self-incrimination, and the rights to confront adverse witnesses, a speedy trial, and the effective assistance of counsel, would violate Sicor' right guaranteed by the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendments as incorporated into the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and would be improper under the constitutions, common law and public policies of any applicable states' laws.

FIFTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Sicor adopts by reference any additional applicable defense pled by any other defendant not otherwise pled herein.

FIFTY-SECOND DEFENSE

Sicor hereby gives notice that it intends to rely upon any other and additional defense that is now or may become available or appear during, or as a result of the discovery proceedings in this action and hereby reserve its right to amend its answer to assert such defense. Sicor also reserves the right to assert such other and related defenses as may become available in the event of a determination that the action, or some part hereof, is governed by the substantive law of a state other than California, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Washington and/or any other State whose law is or becomes relevant in the course of this multidistrict litigation.
